RED LIGHT WAR IN DAYTON.

The social problem is to the front in Dayton, owing to an order issued by City Manager Waite closing all of the houses in the segregated district, and the papers of that city are full of interviews of various kinds about the action. The general opinion seems to be that the order was a little hasty and that too short a time was given to meet the changed conditions. This view is taken by President Corley of the Dayton Social Welfare League, who is quoted as saying:

"While the closing of the red light district has always been the ultimate aim of the Dayton Social Welfare League, the action of City Manager Waite has been a little precipitate," commented President Corley. "We are gratified that the houses are to be closed, but our funds will be crippled as a result of it. Still we will do all we can to co-operate in securing positions for the girls who want work."

Another opinion given by Judge Budroe, of the Dayton Municipal Court, is blunt and to the point. He says:

"In almost every city where reformers have taken hold of the governmental reins, a similar attempt has been made to close the segregated districts," said Municipal Court Judge Budroe, "mostly, I think, for effect. I have been on the criminal court bench in Dayton for three years and in this time I have not seen more than three women of this district brought before me for more than a petty charge. It is from low women not properly supervised that most of our problems arise."

"In Indianapolis the real estate dealers particularly declared against the arrangement, saying that it was impossible to keep flats and apartment houses free from prostitutes. People are no different in Ohio than those in Indiana."

On the other hand, City Manager Waite says that his order was not based upon the belief that vice could be eradicated in Dayton, but was inspired by a desire to shift the burden for its existence from official shoulders.

"The city management is tired of assuming the responsibility for prostitution in this city," said City Manager Waite, in discussing the matter with certain officials before he left for the east. "What we want to do is to shift the burden to the shoulders of those who are directly and indirectly responsible for it. Those who are engaged in this illegitimate business now know that they do not have the sanction of official authority, and whatever infraction of the law may occur, they are fully assured that they are more than likely to have to suffer the consequences."

The outcome of the experiment in Dayton will be watched with interest. If the city government can make its order effective, if it can keep the inmates of the disorderly houses from spreading over Dayton, it will have accomplished much for the betterment of the general morals of the community. But it is useless to deny that it is still a much mooted question as to whether or not segregation and strict supervision, is not the best way to handle the problem in the large cities.

TYPHOID CARRIERS.

Now that the quality of public water supplies has been greatly improved and the practice of milk pasteurization has been widely introduced, outbreaks of typhoid attributed to typhoid carriers are becoming more conspicuous than formerly, although probably they are not really more frequent. A remarkable epidemic due to food infected by a carrier was recently reported by Sawyer in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, and while this was perhaps exceptional in the number of persons infected at one time, it emphasizes the grave danger of allowing carriers to have to do with the preparation or handling of food intended for general consumption. The still more recent typhoid outbreak at Lehigh University with more than fifty cases and several deaths has been traced likewise by the Pennsylvania State Department of Health to a kitchen employee who proved to be a healthy carrier. Such instances—and they are multiplying fast—suggest that wherever feasible, employees handling foods liable to spread infection should be examined for a possible typhoid reaction in the blood. In case the reaction is positive and even when it is negative, but there is a definite history of typhoid fever, bacterial examination for typhoid germs should be made. Application of the test could probably be made with little inconvenience in connection with the student dining halls of many educational institutions where proper bacteriologic facilities and expert service exist. We know of at least one American university where such a routine examination of the employees concerned in the handling of food has been practiced for several years past. The disaster at Lehigh shows that such precautions are justified, and that with our present knowledge of typhoid causation some responsibility in this regard may be justly expected from college authorities. There are also many hospitals, sanatoriums and public institutions in which the necessary facilities and skill for such examinations exist or could be readily provided, and here, too, it is true that to be forewarned is to be forearmed. In the future uncomfortable questions may be asked when carrier outbreaks occur in large institutions that are provided with bacteriologic facilities.

RICHMOND'S A BUSY MAN.

R. P. Holston, Representative from Alabama, who specializes on prohibition and the Japanese war scare, proposes to keep the temperance pot boiling in Congress again this winter, and as a preliminary effort will send a letter to each member of Congress from Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and all other states asking them to express their attitude toward the Holston prohibition amendment. If Holston can obtain a complete poll showing a majority in favor of the amendment he will probably use it to compel the House Committee on Rules to report out a rule for the consideration of the amendment.

MARVELOUS!

Such profound wisdom as this, reported in the Boston Transcript's alleged joke column, could proceed, of course, only from a Boston child:
 "A little lad of our acquaintance recently discovered why the giraffe has such a long neck."
 "Because his head is so far from his body," he explained."

A chronic graunch declares that the man who introduced grapefruit as an article of diet played a joke on humanity.

"Life is a bridge of sighs, over which memory glides into a torrent of tears."—Nat C. Goodwin.

THE AVERAGE DURATION OF SICKNESS.

It is recognized that much of our data regarding disease is practically valueless because the statistics recorded in different localities and for different purposes are not intelligently co-ordinated. The facts are on record, but the deductions which can be drawn only from carefully tabulated facts are too often lacking on account of the incompleteness of the records. One of the most promising features about the present public health situation is that the facts regarding disease are beginning to be subjected to the same careful scrutiny and mathematical analysis that have in previous years been given to life insurance tables and other tabulations of business facts. The Prudential Insurance Company of America has issued a reprint containing an address before the National Organization for Public Health Nursing, on "Practical Statistics of Public Health Nursing and Community Sickness Experience," by Mr. Frederick L. Hoffman. After commenting on the well known lack of uniformity in recording the statistics of visiting nurses, of terminology and of completeness of records, Mr. Hoffman presents the statistics of visiting nurses' associations for Baltimore, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia for 1912 and 1913. Tabulating these reports, he finds that the four associations in one year gave attention to 58,933 patients, making 429,620 calls, or an average of seven calls per patient. After discussing the general condition of hospitals and hospital treating throughout the country in an endeavor to establish the essentials of an analysis on this subject, Mr. Hoffman finds that the average duration of sickness, as far as can be determined from the fragmentary records, was eleven days for ages under 41 and twenty-three days for ages over 41, and that the average nursing duration for sickness for patients over 45 is seven days for males and twenty-five days for females. Many other interesting facts and deductions are presented. Mr. Hoffman's painstaking study of a large mass of hospital reports and statistics is of distinct value, although the most important point emphasized, in the opinion of the Journal of the American Medical Association, is the meagerness and incompleteness of our data.

DARN QUEER.

The finger I finger the more I discern that this world of ours is a darn queer concern. It's a crime to pick pockets, but it's perfectly right, to pick a man's wages on Saturday night, for the laws are constructed, wherever I've been, that the workers are made for the grafters to skin. If you try to be honest you don't stand a chance; you are sure to be known by the patch on your pants. If you steal a few millions, you're a person of note; if you steal a ham bone the police get your goat. If you run around naked you're sent to the pen; if you swipe some old clothing you go there again. If you murder in war then your valor is sung; if you privately murder you're doomed to be hung. If a girl sells her virtue she's branded vile; but the rooster that bought it is met with a smile. If a man tells the truth then the people get tired; if he tells them a myth, why they say he's inspired. It's a funny old world wherever you turn; it's a devilish, twisted and darn queer concern; it's badly balled up and it's badly out of tune, and must be a sight to the man in the moon.—Henry M. Tichenor in the Rip-Saw.

BUFFALO BILL LEADS RED CROSS SEAL SALE.

"Buffalo Bill" and the business men of Cody, Wyoming, where he lives, have agreed this year, as they did last, that every piece of mail which goes out of the town during the month of December should bear a Red Cross Christmas seal.
 Last year, led by Buffalo Bill, they purchased 22,501 seals—a record which will probably go unbeaten in this country for the greatest use of seals per capita. Cody has a population of about 1,200, and the seals purchased mean that they used nearly twenty per capita.
 Is your town going to sell five or ten for each inhabitant? If not, why not?

ONLY A DOG
But He Spent Three Days in a 45-Foot Vault.

(Augusta Chronicle.)
Several years ago Finley Henderson, the tobacco man, missed his fine bird dog, and notwithstanding the fact that he made diligent inquiry he could find no trace of him. After the dog had been gone several days a dog was heard whining in a vault, back of Mrs. S. P. Conley's home, on Elizabeth street, and investigation being made the missing dog was discovered.
The vault, which had recently been cleaned out, is about 15 feet deep; at a depth of about 30 feet a board projected, on which the animal alighted in its descent, and on which it clung until found, at least three or four days.
"Dock" Preston, the handy man, played cowboy and lassoed the dog after several attempts, and he was turned over to his master as good as ever, excepting that he was unusually lank after his long fast.

UNITED STATES

Passes 100,000,000 Population—Quadrupling of People and Vast Growth of Wealth in 50 Years Told Officially—Savings Four Billions.

The population of the United States today is more than 100,000,000 and the money in circulation totals $3,419,000, 000, while 11,000,000 of the thrifty inhabitants have $1,375,000,000 in the savings banks.

Such is the announcement made here recently by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce in the Department of Commerce. The pamphlet issued by the Bureau is entitled "Statistical Record of Progress of the United States, 1850-1914." It gives a "half-century retrospect" and a "clear perspective" of the nation's quadrupling of population and multiplying a hundred-fold of industrial values.

"Since 1850 the population, then 25, 000,000, has more than quadrupled," says the bulletin. Commerce has grown from $218,000,000 to $1,259,000,000, and the per capita value of exports from $16.96 to $23.27.

National wealth has increased from $7,000,000,000 in 1870 to $10,000,000, 000 in 1914. For the entire country bank clearings have grown from $22,000,000,000 in 1887 to $171,000,000,000 in 1913.

Improved social conditions among the people are shown in that 19,000,000 children are enrolled in public schools and 200,000 students in college. The total expenditure on education approximates $500,000,000 a year.

More than 22,000 newspapers and periodicals are printed.

In 1850 there were 251,000 depositors in savings banks. There are now 11, 000,000 with deposits aggregating more than 100 times as much as at the middle of the last century.

The value of farms and farm property increased during the last half century from $1,000,000,000 to $11,000, 000,000; value of manufactures from $1,000,000,000 to over $20,000,000, 000, and the number of miles of rail road in operation from 9,921 in 1850 to 258,033 in 1912.

In the last twenty-five years the number of passengers carried has increased from 492,000,000 to 1,000,000, 000, and the volume of freight handled each year from 632,000,000 to 1, 847,000,000 tons.

Nearly 20,000,000,000 pieces of outgoing mail matter were handled annually by the Postoffice Department, which disbursed last year $202,000,000, or $2.70 per capita.

GEORGE ALEXANDER

Trial of High Rolling Paris Banker Resulted in Hung Jury.

At Paris Friday in the trial of George Alexander, the alleged bank wrecker, resulted in a hung jury, and another trial will follow. The jury was reported to stand 10 for conviction and 2 for acquittal.

The Paris Democrat said of the bankers:

Mr. Alexander has been married three times. First, to Miss Kate Spours, of this city, by whom he has two daughters, Miss Kate Alexander of Paris, and Mrs. Edith Bronston at Lexington. His daughter, Miss Maggie Alexander, died at the age of 11 years.

His second marriage was to Mrs. Evalina Plater Keener of Nashville, Tenn., and just one year from the day she came to Paris a bride, her body was taken back to Nashville for burial.

Miss Mary Buford of Covington was the third wife, and by this union there are two daughters, Misses Marian and Elizabeth Clay Alexander.

As a business man and elegant gentleman no man in the state stood higher than Mr. Alexander until the crash came last May and the affairs of the bank were exposed.

It seems strange that a man of Mr.
Alexander's standing and advantages could have "fallen from grace," and be placed in the position he now finds himself.

He had an elegant home, plenty of money to live an easy life, a family that any man should be proud of.

He had befriended many men in dire need, both among the rich and among the poor, in fact every one for whom he had a personal liking, and as a consequence had gained many friends. On the other hand his manner rendered him unapproachable and made him unpopular with the people as a whole.

HUMORS OF LAW.

We laugh at old Wouter van Twiller.
Whose mode of deciding a case Was to go by the looks and the weight of the books.

Which the lawyers brought into his place.

We, just at his manner of judging Because it is queer in our eyes, And the crandle way of our jurists today.

Show up as decidedly wise For now they determine on justice.

By means that are noble to see,
By a comma misplaced in a proofread-er's haste.

Or a failure at crossing a "t,"
And having thus climbed to perfection,

To justice sans error or flaw, Our laughter rings shriller at Wouter van Twiller.

And his way of deciding the law.

KENTUCKY WILL SEND WHEAT TO EUROPE.

The United States has approximately 500,000,000 bushels of wheat on hand this year for export and practically all of it will probably be sold to the warring countries of Europe. According to a report issued today by the United States Department of Agriculture the wheat production of the United States this year will be around 802,000,000 bushels and only 301,000,000 bushels will be needed for food consumption and seed purposes at home.

The per capita wheat consumption of Kentucky for food is 4.5 bushels, and the total annual requirement for seed and food purposes in this state is 11,600,000 bushels, leaving a surplus of production this year of approximately 492,000 bushels.

THE HORSE'S BOARD BILL.

Washington, D. C., November 30.— The United States Department of Agriculture has just completed figuring the board bill of the American horse and finds that he consumes $16.47 worth of corn, $7.57 of oats, 65 cents worth of barley and $14.30 worth of hay annually. He eats 29 bushels of corn, 21 of oats, one bushel of barley and one and one-fifth tons of hay each year.
There are about 25,000,000 horses and mules on the farms of the United States and their annual feed bill is $381,084,000. The total amount of corn fed per year is 731,000,000 bushels, 525, 000,000 bushels of oats, 27,000,000 bushels of barley and 29,797,000 tons of hay.

THE PATRIOTIC DOLLAR

CONGRESS DECREES DOLLARS IN-DULGING IN LUXURIES MUST FIRST SALUTE THE FLAG.

War Revenue Tax of $105,000,000 Levied—Beer Bears Brunt of Burden.

Congress has levied a war tax of $105,000,000 to offset a similar amount of loss on import revenue due to the European disturbances and of this amount beer is the heaviest contributor, having been assessed approximately $50,000,000; a stamp tax on negotiable instruments, it is estimated, will yield $31,000,000; a tax on the capital stock of banks of $4,300,000 and a tax on tobacco, perfumes, theater tickets, etc., makes the remainder.

Congress has decreed that the brewer, the banker and the investor must shoulder the musket and march to the front; that millady who would add to her beauty must first tip Uncle Sam, and a dollar that seeks pleasure must first salute the flag; that Pleasure and Profit—the twin heroes of many wars—shall fight the nation's battles and by an ingeniously arranged schedule of taxation congress has shifted the war budget from the shoulders of Necessity to those of Cholesterol and Gain, touching in its various ramifications almost every line of business.

All hail the dollar that bleeds for its country; that bares its breast to the fortunes of war and risks its life to preserve the stability and integrity of the nation's credit.

The market place has always been a favorite stand for war revenue collectors. The trader is a great financial patriot. His dollar is the first to rally around the star-spangled banner and the last to hear the cry of the dove of peace. He is called upon to buy cannon, to feed and clothe the boys in blue and each month cheer their hearts with the coin of the realm. Men can neither be free nor brave without food and ammunition, and money is as important a factor in war as blood. Many monuments have been erected in honor of heroes slain in battles, poems have been written eulogizing their noble deeds and the nation honors its soldiers while they live and places a monument upon their graves when they die, but very little has been said of the dollar that bears the burdens of war.

Honor to the Dollar that Bears the Burdens of War.

All honor to the dollar that answers the call to arms and, when the battle is over, bandages the wounds of stricken soldiers, lays a wreath upon the graves of fallen heroes and cares for the widows and orphans.

All honor to the industries that bend their backs under the burdens of war; lift the weight from the shoulders of the poor and build a bulwark around the nation's credit.

All honor to those who contribute to the necessities and administer to the comforts of the boys who are marching; cool the fever of afflicted soldiers and kneel with the cross beside dying heroes.

A dollar may fight its competitor in business, industries may struggle for supremacy in trade and occupations may vie each other with envy or suspicion, but when the bugle calls they bury strife and rally around the flag, companions and friends, mess mates and chums, all fighting for one flag, one cause and one country.

The luxuries in life have always been the great burden-bearers in government. We will mention a few of them giving the annual contributions to the nation's treasury: Liquor, $250, 000,000; tobacco, $103,000,000; sugar, $54,000,000; silk, $15,500,000; diamonds, $3,837,000; millinery, $2,479, 000; furs, $2,024,000 and automobiles, $370,000. We collect $665,000,000 of internal and custom revenue annually and $450,000,000 of this amount classified as luxuries, and to this amount we should add the $100,000,000 war tax now levied.

The war tax is immediately effective. Tramp! Tramp! Tramp! the industries are marching $100,000,000 strong and beneath the starry flag they will fill the treasury again while they about, "Hurrah for Uncle Sam!"

In every field of human activity the demand for more competent men and women is growing every day. Especially so in agriculture.

Home pride is a mighty valuable asset, and the farmer who has none is carrying a heavy handicap on the road to success.

Work is the salve that heals the wounded heart.

T. E. FRITSCHER DROPS DEAD.

farm never wants to marry the old

Beware of Ointments For Catarrh That Contain Mercury.
As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. Cheney & Co.

The Ford Motor Co., announces that in the month of September there were sold and delivered 21,976 Ford cars. This was a gain of 11,479 cars over September 1913. This is significant not only because it shows that the Ford production is rapidly being increased to meet the stupendous influx of orders, but also because it demonstrates that the Ford Motor Company is maintaining the 300,000 car-schedule necessary to give Ford purchasers between August 1st, 1914 and August 1st, 1915, a share of Ford profits.

We have just received a car-load of the new 1915 models, and can give you immediate delivery. There's nothing to gain by waiting, so order now and enjoy your car this fall and winter.

ILLITERACY—AS A LAWYER SEES IT.

The legal profession, just as every other profession or occupation, has its unpleasant features. The lawyer, by virtue of his profession, hears stories of unhappiness and misery which other members of the community know little or nothing. He learns of the vicious and criminal side of life around him through the records of the criminal courts, and by reason of his attention being constantly directed to the crimes committed in the community and his observation of the lawbreakers, it is only natural that he should become interested in the causes for the various offenses.

In probably a majority of instances, the cause for the crime can be traced to illiteracy. Educated illiteracy and the number of cases on the docket of the criminal courts will be materially reduced. Education and morality are more closely connected than the average person realizes. Illiteracy breeds superstition, jealousy, hatred, misunderstanding and prejudice, and to the illiterate there is a twilight zone between good and evil wherein he is unable to distinguish right from wrong. Education refines the intellect and indirectly promotes morality and good citizenship, for the educated mind perceives the necessity for the various restrictions imposed by law and the moral code, and that what is best for one's neighbor is best for one's self. Many crimes are the results of ignorance rather than base motives and the offender is more of an unfortunate than a criminal. It is not the purpose of the writer to convey the idea that all illiterates are criminals by any means, but that illiteracy is conducive to crime and that frequently an illiterate that is a liability upon the community in which he lives can be converted into a valuable asset with a little effort. In addition to the tremendous cost to the state occasioned by crime resulting from illiteracy, is the effect of illiteracy upon the efficiency of the government itself. A government such as ours is dependent upon the intelligence of the electorate for success, for it is the history of republican institutions that ignorance begets corruption and inefficiency, while an educated and enlightened citizenship will demand and secure honesty and efficiency from those in authority.

COMING FRIDAY—"THE MASTER MIND"—FEATURING MR. EDMUND BREEZE

FIFTY YEARS AGO IN CINCINNATI.

November 28, 1864. (Commercial Tribune)

Typical Indian summer weather prevailed yesterday, the temperature ranging between 49 and 56 degrees, with a clear sky.

Over 400 refugees arrived here yesterday and nearly as many more on Saturday. These people are in wretched condition, men, women and children being half starved and nearly naked. Military authorities have taken them in hand.

The packet Peerless arrived from Wheeling yesterday with a big passenger list, among them being General Powell and staff. When near Moundsville Colonel McClellan fell down the main stairway and was so seriously injured that he was placed on shore at that point.

General Hancock, who is still suffering from an old wound, is spending a few days at the Burnet House under treatment of local army surgeons.

The steamer William L. Exving sank last Friday at a point 10 miles below St. Louis. She was owned by Cincinnati parties, valued at $100,000, and is a total loss. Two deck hands were drowned.

There were eleven arrivals and twelve departures yesterday, all boats having fair freight and heavy passenger trips.

The steamer Katie, which left Evansville last Friday bound up, was in collision with the Des Moines at Diamond Island on Saturday and sank in shallow water. All passengers and members of the crew were saved with the exception of two darkies and one white man. The latter when last seen was going down stream on the back of a ball.

HOGS, CATTLE OR MEN—WHICH?

"Michigan is making a vigorous effort to stamp out hog cholera. Hogs are marketable," said Governor Woodbury N. Cattle are marketable. Why not make a strenuous effort to 'stamp out' tuberculosis in men, women and children? Human beings are priceless."
